WorldFish is an international, non-profit, non-governmental research organization with a mission to reduce poverty and hunger by improving fisheries and aquaculture. We are one of 15 centers supported by the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR), a group of donors worldwide including governments, development banks, philanthropic organizations and development institutions. We began in 1977 as the International Center for Living Aquatic Resources Management (ICLARM) based in the Philippines, and in 2000, we shortened our name to The WorldFish Center and established our new headquarters in Penang, Malaysia. Our regional or country offices are in Bangladesh, Cambodia, Egypt, Malaysia (headquarters), Philippines, Solomon Islands, and Zambia.
